

For six decades, The Grupe Company has shaped the future of the Central Valley with vision, stewardship, and a commitment to building communities that stand the test of time. Founded in 1966 and guided by generations of leadership, Grupe's legacy is rooted in thoughtful planning, responsible development, and a belief that strong communities begin with a clear view of tomorrow.

Today, as Grupe celebrates 60 years, the company honors its heritage while continuing to plan for the future — creating places where families grow, businesses thrive, and the next generation can build their own story.
